April 11, 1994

Dear Developer Network member:

As a Level 2 member of the Developer Network, you are slated to receive the components of the Microsoft® Windows NT™ version 3.5 beta for developers. You'll notice that the Development Platform has empty slots for two more CDs. At the time the April 1994 Development Platform was manufactured, the beta release of Microsoft Windows NT version 3.5, the pre-release of the Win32® software development kit (SDK), and the pre-release of Win32s™ version 1.2 were not yet available for shipment.

The Developer Network will ship you the components of the Windows NT 3.5 beta listed above as soon as they are available.

In the meantime, we hope you enjoy the latest releases of the Development Platform and the Development Library. If you have any feedback about the Development Platform, Development Library, or the Developer Network program, please be sure to send it to us using any of the channels below:
